For 30 years, the University of Arizona Aquaculture Pathology Laboratory has been dedicated to providing quality diagnostic and research services for the growing shrimp industry worldwide.

The University of Arizona Aquaculture Pathology Lab is located in Southern Arizona in the middle of the Sonoran Desert! Tucson is surrounded by beautiful mountains and is located about 220 miles away from the ocean, making our lab the ideal location for shrimp disease diagnosis and research.

2020 Shrimp Pathology Short Course
June 14 - June 20, 2020
Lectures on diseases affecting shrimp industry worldwide and hands on training on diagnostic methods that include:

- Wet Mount Analysis
- Histopathology (H&E, in situ Hybridization)
- PCR (Conventional & Real-Time PCR)
- Microbiology

Registration Information:
Registration is limited to 26 participants

Location:
Tucson, Arizona

Dates:
June 14, 2020-June 20, 2020

Cost:
Early Registration
$1,800.00 (USD) if the full payment is received on or before April 30, 2020.

$2,000.00 (USD) if the full payment is received on or after May 1, 2020.

Student Rate $1250.00 (USD) – Must have valid student ID and 1-page Letter of Interest

New this year:
Registration fee includes lunch for 6 days

To receive an application:
Email Patricia Marinez at pmarinez@email.arizona.edu
Or Call 520-621-4438